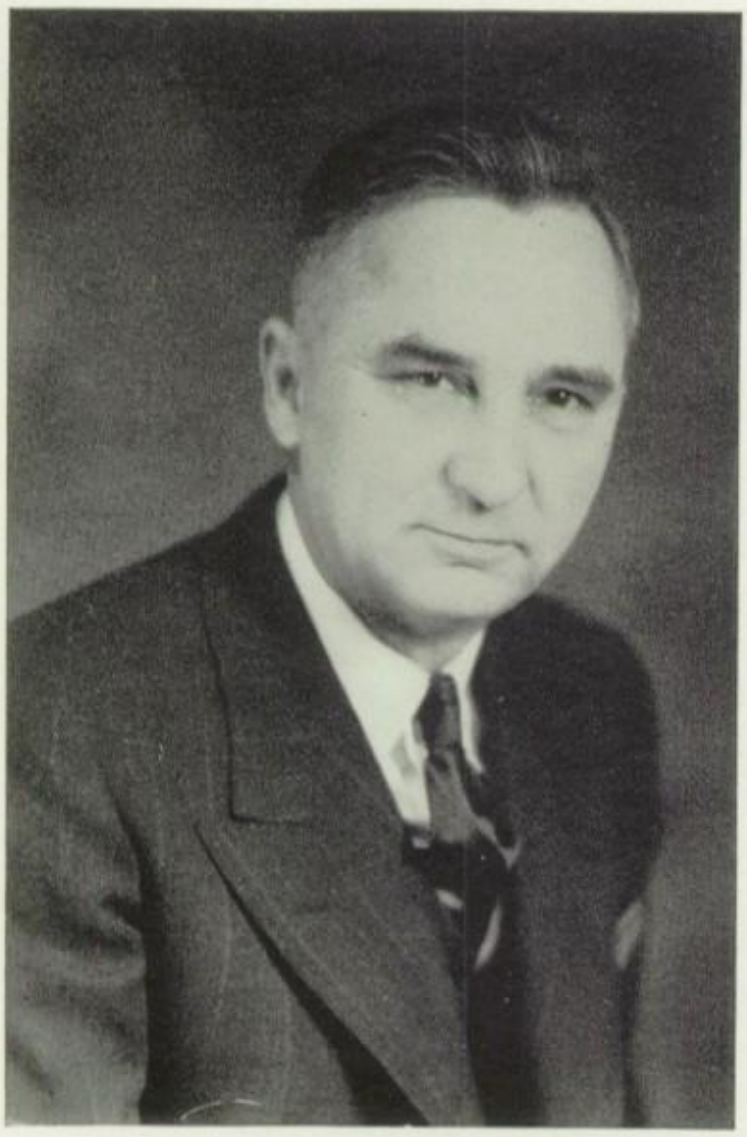
System Provide the Inspiration



Mr. James B. Good

We believe in giving credit where it is due, and who deserves more credit for keeping our school running smoothly than Mr. Good, our principal! His guidance has proved beneficial to all.

Miss Borden not only acts as assistant to the principal, but as dean of girls. Her kindly leadership has made her very popular with everyone.

SPONSORS AND OFFICERS

As senior sponsors Miss Greene and Mr. Telle have been very inspiring and helpful during the school year. Miss Greene has assisted us through our four years of high school, and Mr. Telle joined us in our junior year. We feel that the class of '42 has benefited much by their leadership.

Colors: Blue and White

Flower: Red Carnation

Orchids to our class officers! They have handled the affairs of our class with efficiency, and their capable leadership has helped to make this year a happy one for all.

Pat Hendricks, president; Marjorie Boyles, secretary; Jim Maddox, vice president; Mary Catherine Sills, treasurer.

History

MARJORIE BOYLES

It was in September, 1938, that 155 brilliant, young students entered Hartford City High. As Freshmen Mr. Warner and Miss Greene were our sponsors. Our officers were Bill Ervin, president; Paul Werry, v. president; Jim Maddox, secretary; Gene Mills, treasurer. During the year, we enjoyed a carry-in supper followed by a party.

In the fall of 1939, 134 of our group returned to compose the sophomore class. Mr. Warner and Miss Greene were again our sponsors. Paul Werry was elected president; Dick Lyons, v. president; Marjorie Boyles, secretary; and Gene Mills, treasurer. Our activities of the year included the sale of tickets for a barn dance and a party.

As juniors, we numbered 119. We had waited a long time for this year. We presented "The Dark House" as our class play and sponsored a movie to further increase our funds. A class party and a Jr Sr. mixer provided our entertainment during the year. Then came the big event—the Jr. Sr. prom. Nancy Rogers was elected queen of the prom. Miss Greene and Mr. Telle ably assisted us this year. Our officers were Paul Werry, president; Pat Hendricks, v. president; Molly Jane Fulton, secretary; and Jeanne Musselman, treasurer.

At last we are SENIORS! We have had many good times and enjoyed every minute of our time in school. Of course there were times when we ran into difficulties; but 99 of us have survived. Again this year, we have Miss Greene and Mr. Telle as sponsors. Our officers are Pat Hendricks, president; Jim Maddox, v. president; Marjorie Boyles, secretary; Mary Catherine Sills, treasurer. Our high school days will come to an end with our last Jr. Sr. prom and banquet, Class Day, presentation of the Retro, Baccalaureate, and finally Commencement.

For having the largest attendance of parents in a contest held during National Education Week, the Juniors were entertained hilariously by the faculty. Their benefit show, "Henry Aldrich for President" was a very delightful comedy. An amusing and enjoyable class play was "Professor, How Could You." This up and coming class also won the inter-class basketball tournament, defeating the Seniors in the final game. The Junior class entertained the Seniors at a mixer which was enjoyed by all. With the end of school came the long-awaited Junior-Senior Prom and reception. The grand march was headed by Rhea Stroble, the Prom Queen, escorted by the class president.

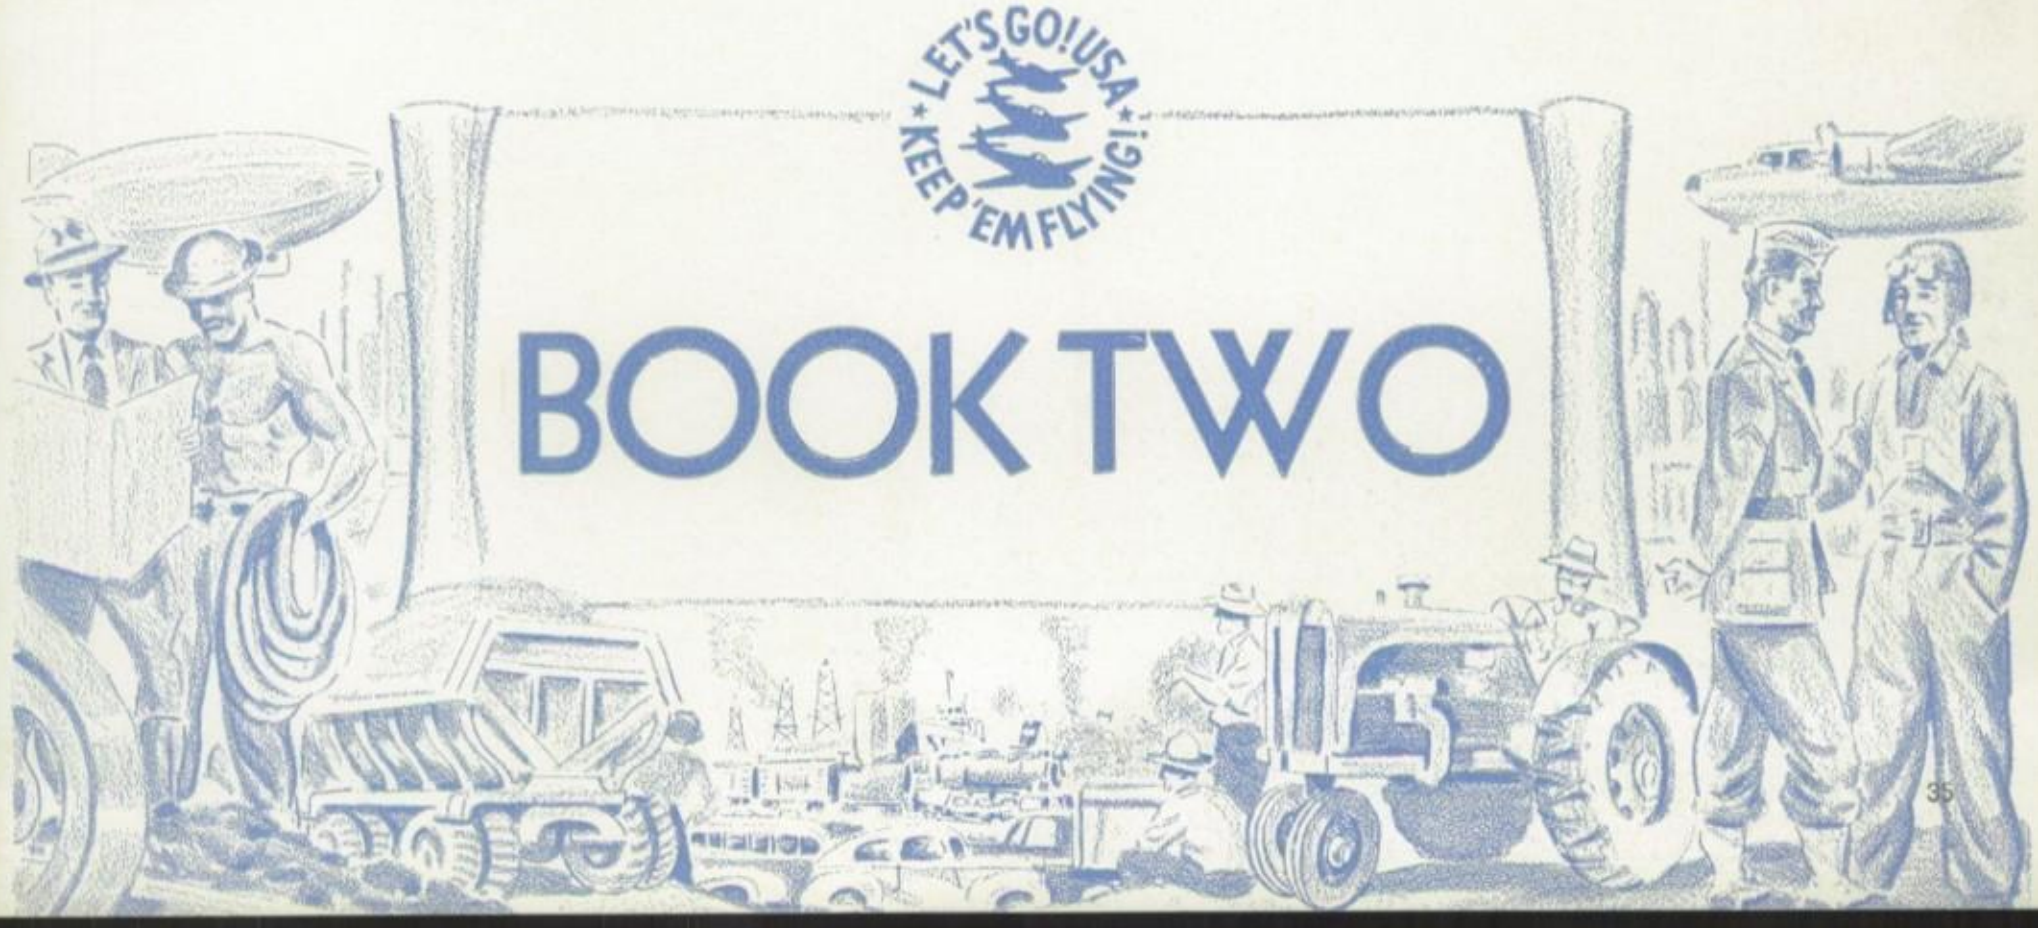
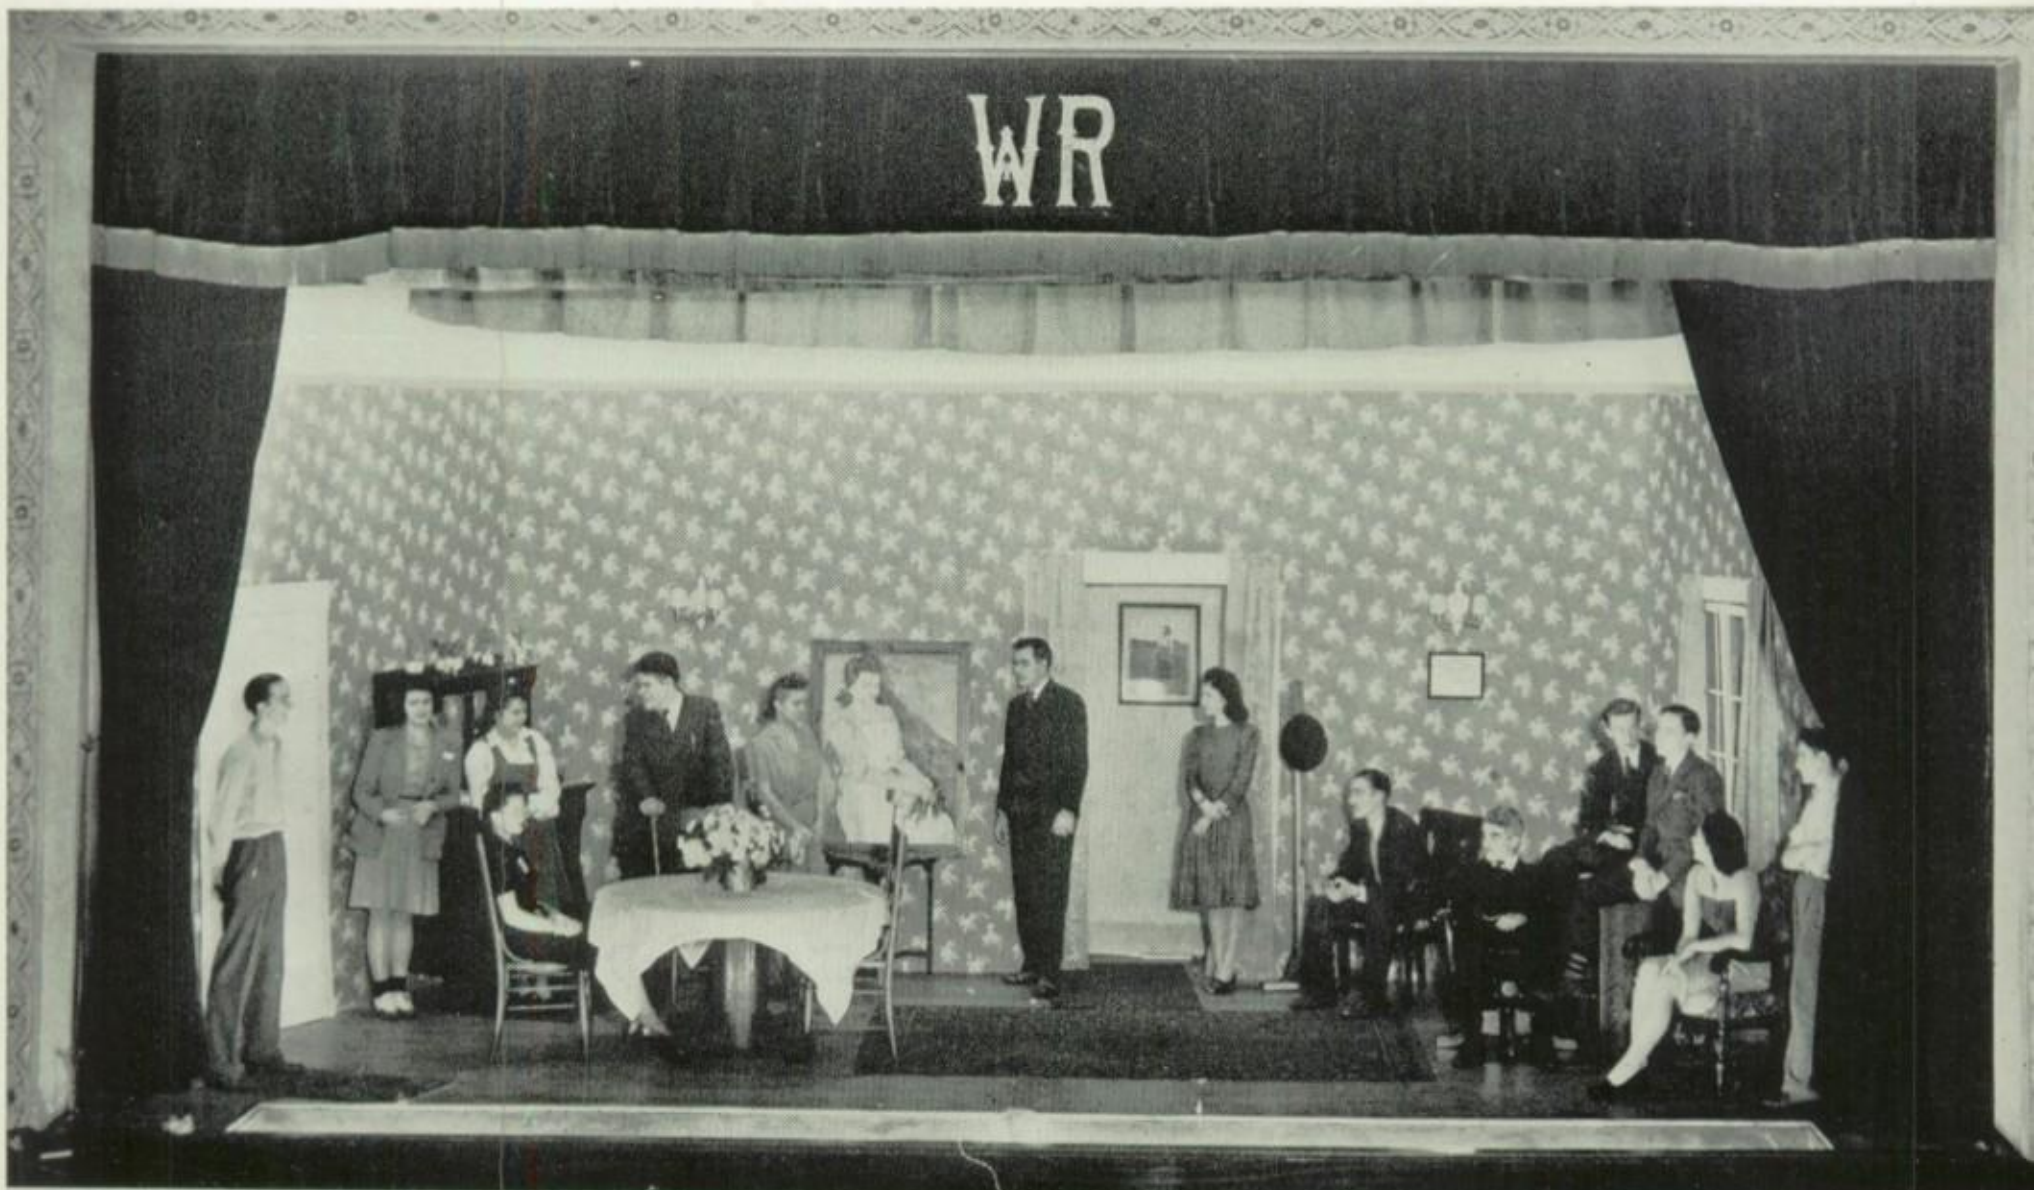
Adaptability to the Requirements of Society

Book Two illustrates that in the modern educational program the social life of a student is taken quite as much into consideration as his life in the classroom.



BOOK TWO



"THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

Junior Class Play

"The Dark House"

Characters: Bates, Gale Good; Mrs. Hunt, Patty Schweier; Benedict Hazard, Victor Felger; Leda Ivans, Judy Rawlings; Charles Ivans, LeRoy Sprowl; Matilda Pink, Juanita Crouse; Professor Scallop, Jack Harden; Grace Gordon, Jeannette Garver; Glenn Chandler, Jim Dolan; Swannee, Joanne Honey; Inspector Malloy, Bill Schantz; Flynn, Bob Needler; Orville, Ronnie Wiles.

Miss Harriet Chandler, an eccentric old maid, dies, leaving wealth and property to friends and relatives. Complications arise after the reading of the will in which several of the recipients are dissatisfied. Later in the evening the butler is discovered murdered. This causes much mutual suspicion among all who are concerned. After the Inspector accuses and eliminates everybody, the housekeeper's son, who has escaped from an insane asylum and is captured, confesses to the murder.

Senior Class Play

"The Late Christopher Bean"

Characters: Dr. Haggett, Jack Harden; Mrs· Haggett, Bernice Fisher; Susan Haggett, Helen Miller; Ada Haggett, Elsie Clamme; Abbie, Loiw Mannix; Warren Creamer, Jim Dolan; Rosen, Bill Schantz; Davenport, Junior Beason; Talent, Ronnie Wiles.

The play is built around the pictures of a deceased painter. The painter, Christopher Bean, was taken in by the Haggetts and lived with them till his death. The pictures he left later turn out to be valuable and the scene is soon overrun with art buyers. All of the plans to get rich quick are upset by the maid turning out to be Bean's wife—thus heir to all the pictures.

Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet

Highlights of the 1940-41 school year were undoubtedly the Jr. Sr. prom and banquet. The prom was held May 16 and Bill Miller and his orchestra furnished the downbeat. The high school gym was elaborately decorated to represent an undersea garden. Shortly after the opening of the dance,HCHS's first prom queen, Nancy Rogers, was crowned. Following this was the grand march led by our queen and the junior class president, Paul Werry. All had a very enjoyable evening.

The banquet was held a week later at the United Brethern Church. Dinner music was furnished by the Ball State Trio. Paul Werry, president of the junior class, welcomed the seniors and Joe Bonham, senior president, responded for the guests. The speaker for the evening was Dr. Stary of Ball State College, a former teacher in Czechoslavakia. This was especially interesting and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

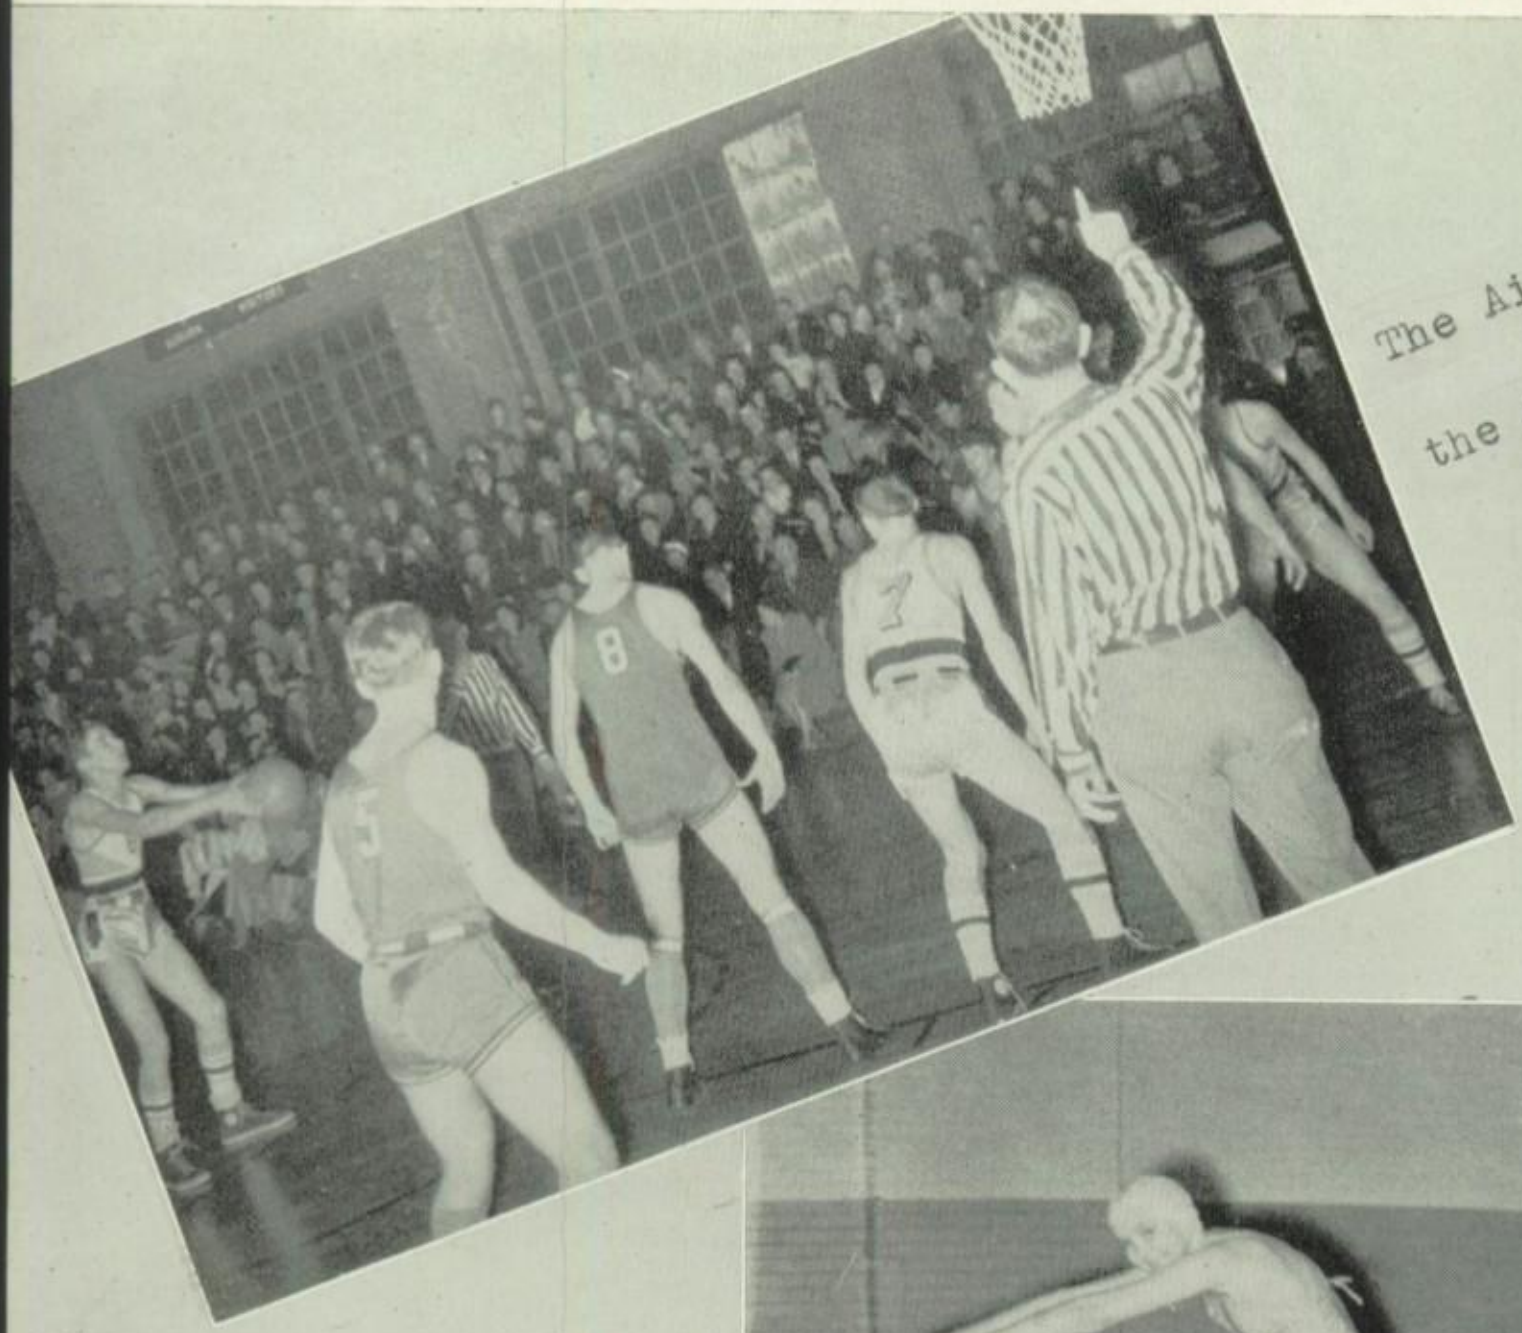
Diversified Occupations Program

At the beginning of the second semester a new program was introduced at HCHS. In fact, the program is new in this state; our school being the first in Indiana to inaugurate it. Plans were outlined at the first of the year, and on February 1 the resulting outline came into active operation.

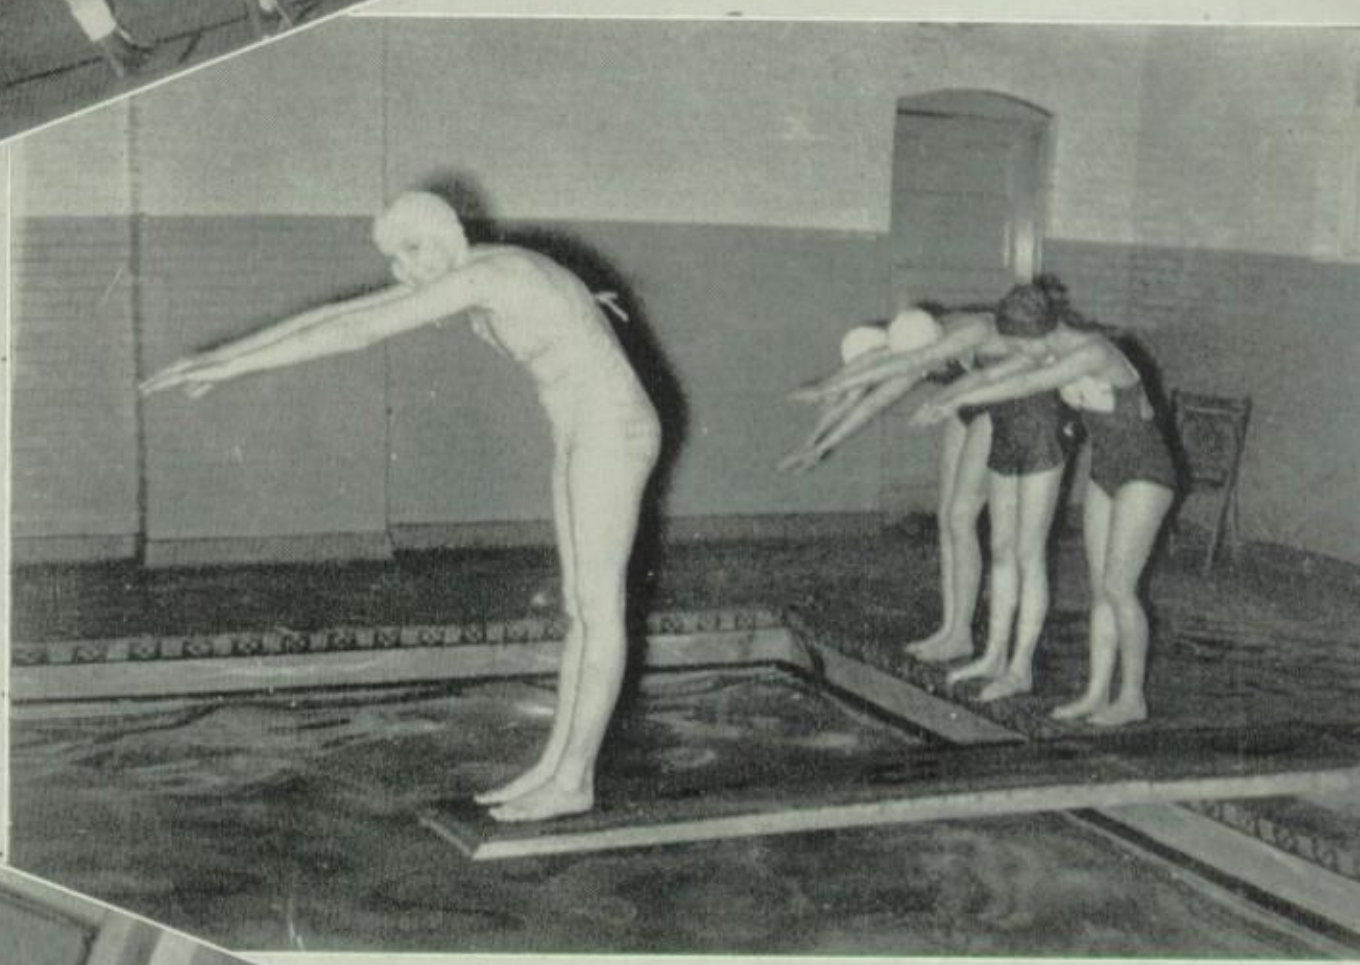
The Diversified Occupations program is designed to meet the many-sided labor needs of this community. Students work on a part-time basis, usually in the morning or afternoon. A special class is held at school for those students employed outside in the city's industries.

Class time is devoted to the student-worker's needs in his or her particular job; later the student puts the skills of the class room into practical use while on the job.

Mr. Lawrence P. Myers is the supervisor and industrial coordinator of this new scheme and he acts between employer and student-worker. His program has the official endorsement of the Central Labor Council and the Civilian Defense office. Since only a few schools in the country offer such a course, material and textbook matter are exceedingly difficult to acquire. In spite of the lack of precedent to guide him, however, Mr. Myers is going ahead swiftly with a project that we fully expect to develop into a big community gain. The following students are enrolled in the course: Lauren Slater, Paul Johnsonbaugh, Paul Green, Vera Stump, Bernice Fisher, Betty Russell, Judith Rawlings, Paul Guy, Vaughn Ridgeway, Robert Clark, Margaret Schmidt, Helen Miller, Maxine Farling, Clifford Risley, Martha McColly, LeRoy Sprowl, Fred Miller, and James DeWitt.



The Airedales wind up the season at Auburn

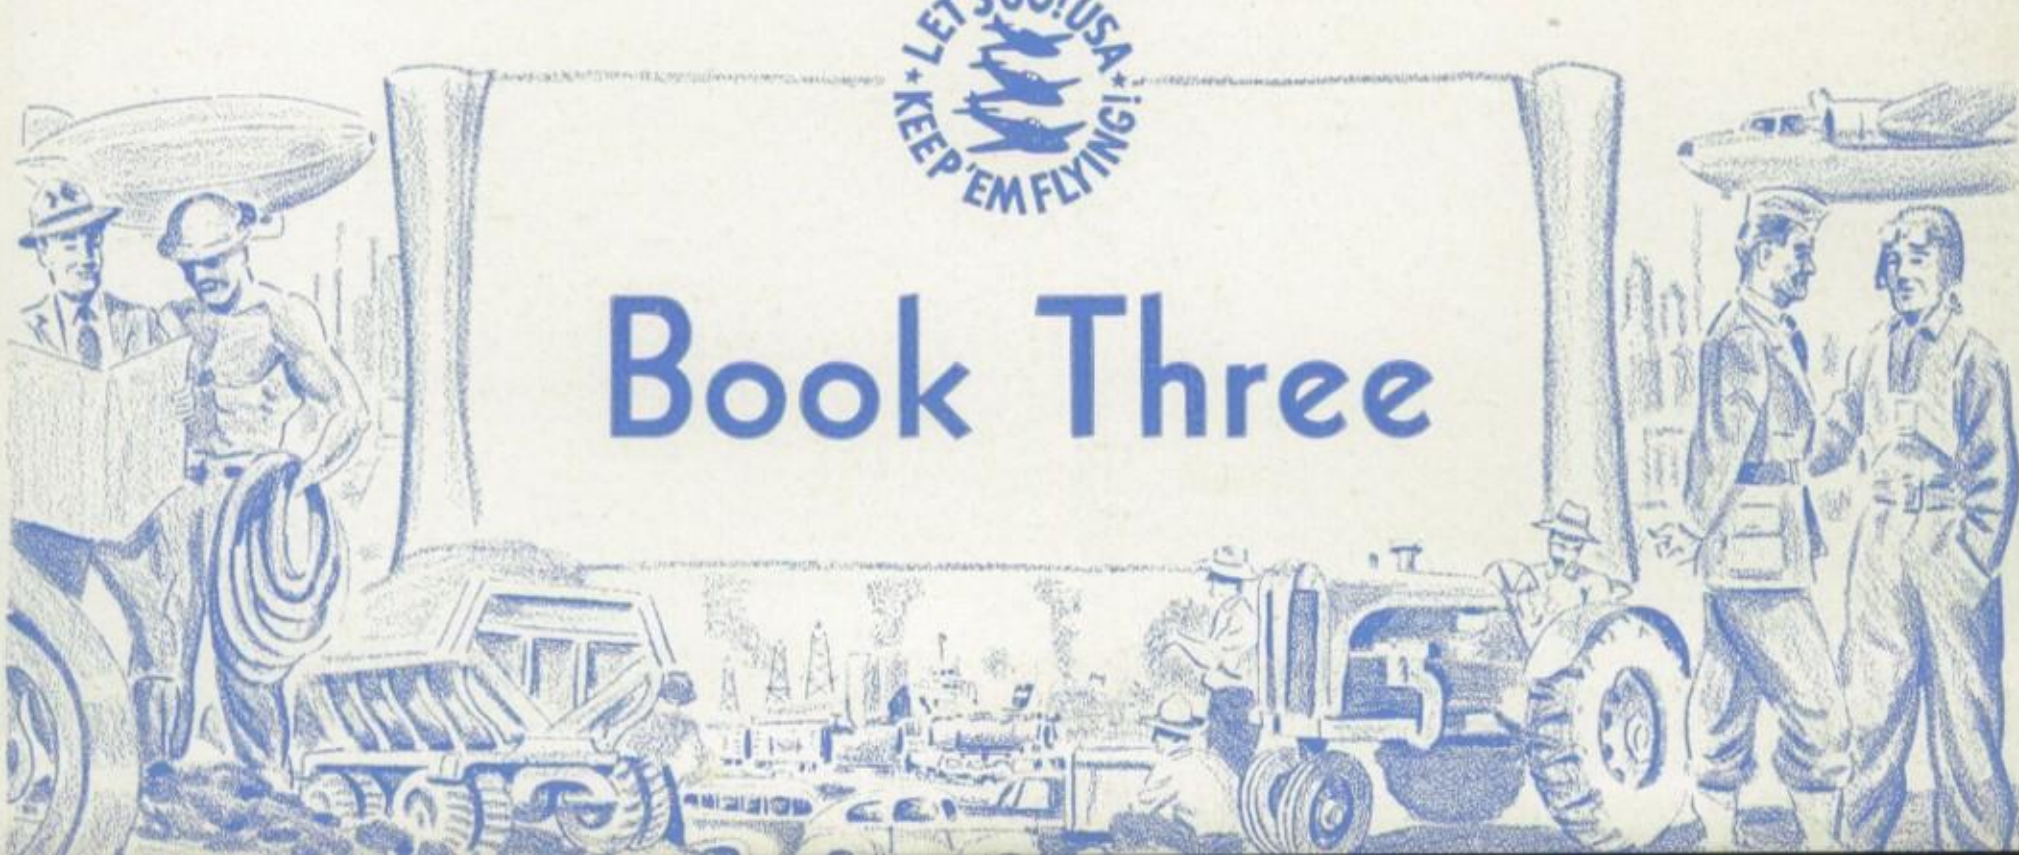


Just mermaids at heart!

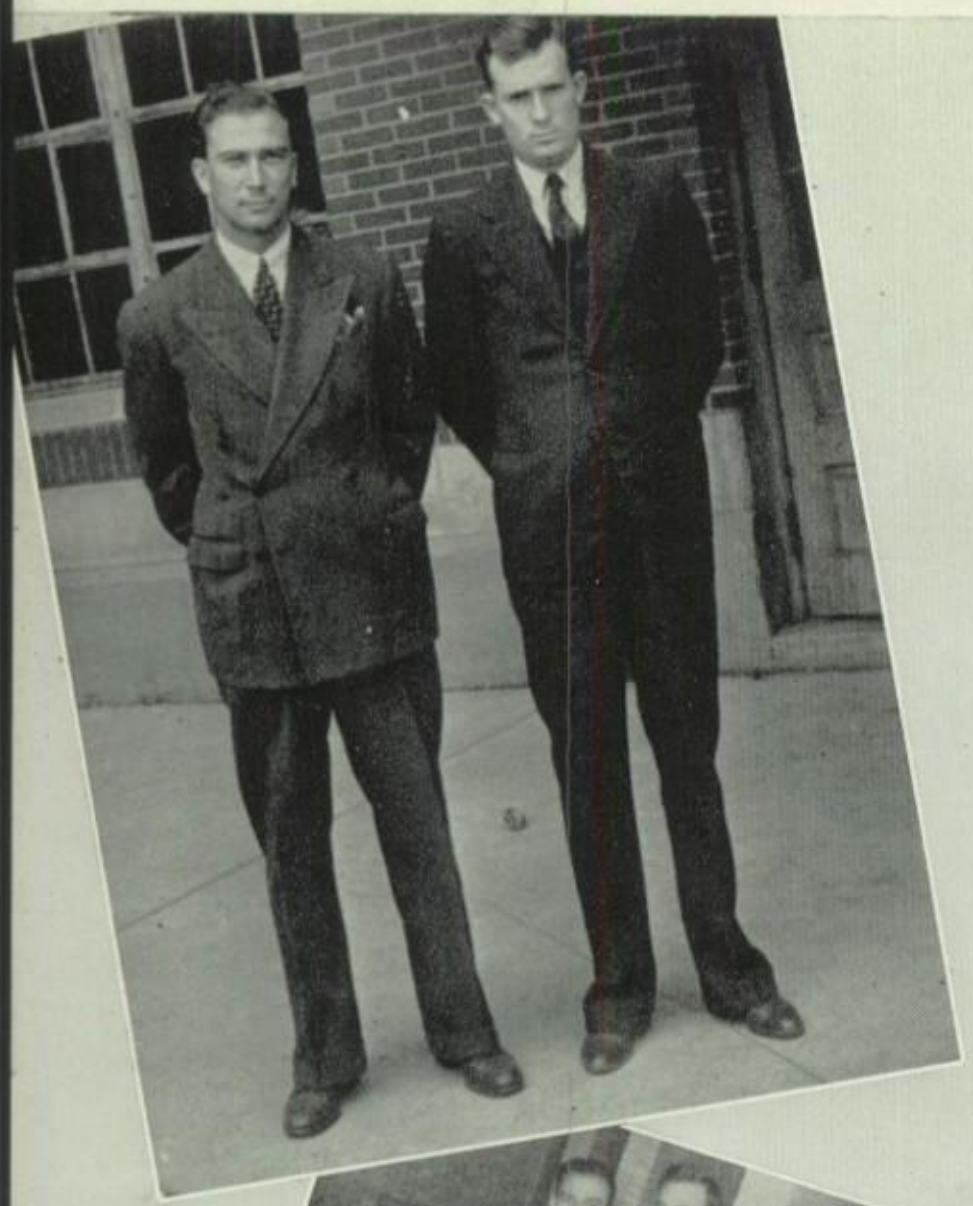
Is Mr. Dorton ready for a swim?

Competitive Sports Foster Good Sportsmanship

The third section of the Retro is primarily to present to you a permanent record of the activities of our boys and girls in sports. Our competitive teams hold a prominent position as they foster the primary incentive for all athletic activities, sportsmanship.



Book Three



COACHES

Larry Imhoff came to Hartford City last year as Athletic Director and in that short space of time has again stationed our Airedales as an athletic power in this section of the state.

Mr. Imhoff, a man of diversified talents, came to our city after five years of unusually successful coaching experience at North Liberty High School and at Purdue University. The school is indeed privileged to possess his services.

Kenneth Dorton received the coveted Kiwanis Award in 1933 and after four years of athletic activity at Indiana Central College, he became head coach at Waterloo High School for three years before returning to his alma mater as assistant coach.

His assistance to our teams, and especially as coach of the Freshman team, is appreciatively recognized by the school.

James Weddle comes to Hartford City after three auspicious years as coach at Van Buren High School. The records attained by his teams in the past have been very laudable. As coach of our Junior High team, an excellent record was compiled; and after winning the four-way tourney at Roll, a trophy was awarded to our school.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Herbaugh is completing her third year as supervisor of girls' sports at Hartford High. She is very well liked by the girls and has given them a wide variety of interests. The girls engage in basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, handball, swimming, and badminton. Much emphasis is placed on life saving.

Paul Werry

Kiwanis Sportsmanship Award

For the past fourteen years the Hartford City Kiwanis Club has presented annually a gold trophy to that member of the basketball team who has shown himself to be outstanding in sportsmanship, citizenship, and scholastic attainment, on and off the basketball court.

This year the award goes to Paul Werry, a boy who has worked earnestly and steadily throughout his high school days. Though his actual playing time has been some less than that of his team-mates, Paul's qualifications have more than met the strict requirements established by the Kiwanis Athletic Committee. With pride we congratulate Paul Werry, fifteenth winner of the K.S.A.

THE AIREDALES

We are all proud of our Airedales. Their season's record of thirteen won and seven lost was the best compiled by our varsity in seven seasons. In our Northeastern Indiana Conference, we climbed from the cellar to second place in one season, which in itself is no mean feat. We sincerely congratulate the boys, their coach, and all others who helped our team attain so successful a year.

Game By Game With the Airedales

Nov. 5 — 43 Hartford City—Gas City 15

We combined good pass work, a lightning fast break, and a good defense to defeat a veteran Tiger team. The high scoring showed their zone defense was not impregnable.

Nov. 7 — 41 Hartford City—Warren 19

Another swift game with the Lightning Five presented us as a well-oiled machine. Bob Frahm collected 15 points to pace the scoring.

Nov. 12 — 15 Hartford City—Montpelier 13

Our first trip netted us a close decision with the Pacers. After a hotly-contested battle with neither team able to connect consistently, we came through with our third straight win.

Nov. 14 — 14 Hartford City—Burris, Muncie 32

The Burris lineup of giants and our inability to connect with the basket cost us our first loss. We fought the Owls gamely till the final gun; but to no avail. The big Ball State floor was certainly no advantage to us.

Nov. 19 — 33 Hartford City—Kendallville 31

After a nip and tuck battle with the score tied several times, we eeked out a two-point win over the Comets. Our first NEIC victory was won on the local hardwood.

Nov. 28 — 26 Hartford City—Bluffton 18

We came through a rough scrap with the Tigers unscathed and with another conference victory. We led all the way, and at one point had the comfortable margin of 12 points.

Dec. 5 — 35 Hartford City—Peru 31

Hank Coats' 14 tallies led us to victory over a rangy Circus City five. We broke an 8-8 tie at the outset of the second quarter and played brilliant ball, leading the rest of the way.

Dec. 6 — 13 Hartford City—Central Ft. Wayne 46

Direct from a hard game the night before, we journeyed north to meet the Tigers. Recognized as one of the best teams in the state, we proved no match for them. Central unveiled a fine display of both offensive and defensive power.

Dec. 12 — 31 Hartford City—Portland 12

We unbelievably shut out the Panthers 22 to 0 the first half! Our defense and fast break worked to perfection. Last year's sectional champions own floor proved of no advantage to them.

Dec. 19 — 34 Hartford City—Columbia City 20

Gardner and Gilbert starred as we won another conference victory. The game progressed at a dizzy pace, bewildering the tall and hefty Eagles.

Dec. 23 — 35 Hartford City—Alexandria 37

We failed to play our usual flashy brand of ball at Alexandria and acquired our third loss of the season. Ray Gilbert's 15 points proved of no avail against the Tigers.

Jan. 9 — 29 Hartford City—Ridgeville 16

We stepped out in our new gold suits and defeated the Cossacks from Randolph County for our ninth victory. Ridgeville was right on our heels until the third quarter when we gained a nine-point advantage. George Fuller proved the star of the evening with four field goals.

Jan. 16 — 39 Hartford City—Huntington 52

Sadly outclassed in both height and weight, we gamely met the Vikings. The game progressed at a torrid pace, at times resembling a football contest. The Vikings played the last minute with but three players, the remainder of their team banished from the floor.

Jan. 23 — 32 Hartford City—Dunkirk 42

Crippled by the loss of two varsitymen due to sickness, we went to Dunkirk and headed the Speedcats for the first half, then failed dismally as four regulars were forced to the sidelines.

Jan. 30 — 31 Hartford City—Pendleton 22

Fuller and Coats led our attack as we exchanged our usual fast brand of ball for a slower, deliberate type to defeat Bob Dro's Irish crew.

Feb. 6 — 38 Hartford City—Berne 31

We displayed an accurate passing attack and an impregnable defense which forced the Bears to use unusual one-handed shooting tactics. Neal Gardner returned from his sickbed to give a stellar exhibition and pace our attack with 12 points.

Feb. 7 — 33 Hartford City—Hagerstown 19

Traveling to Hagerstown the next evening, we used a cautious, deliberate style to down the Tigers. Rex Rudicel's boys never threatened, being limited to 28 shots.

Feb. 13 — 33 Hartford City—Garrett 41

After the long trip to Garrett, we were unable to overcome the red hot Railroaders early 16 point lead. Ray Gilbert sparked a rally which brought us within one point of them, but they again pulled away for an eight point decision.

Feb. 17 — 43 Hartford City—Decatur 32

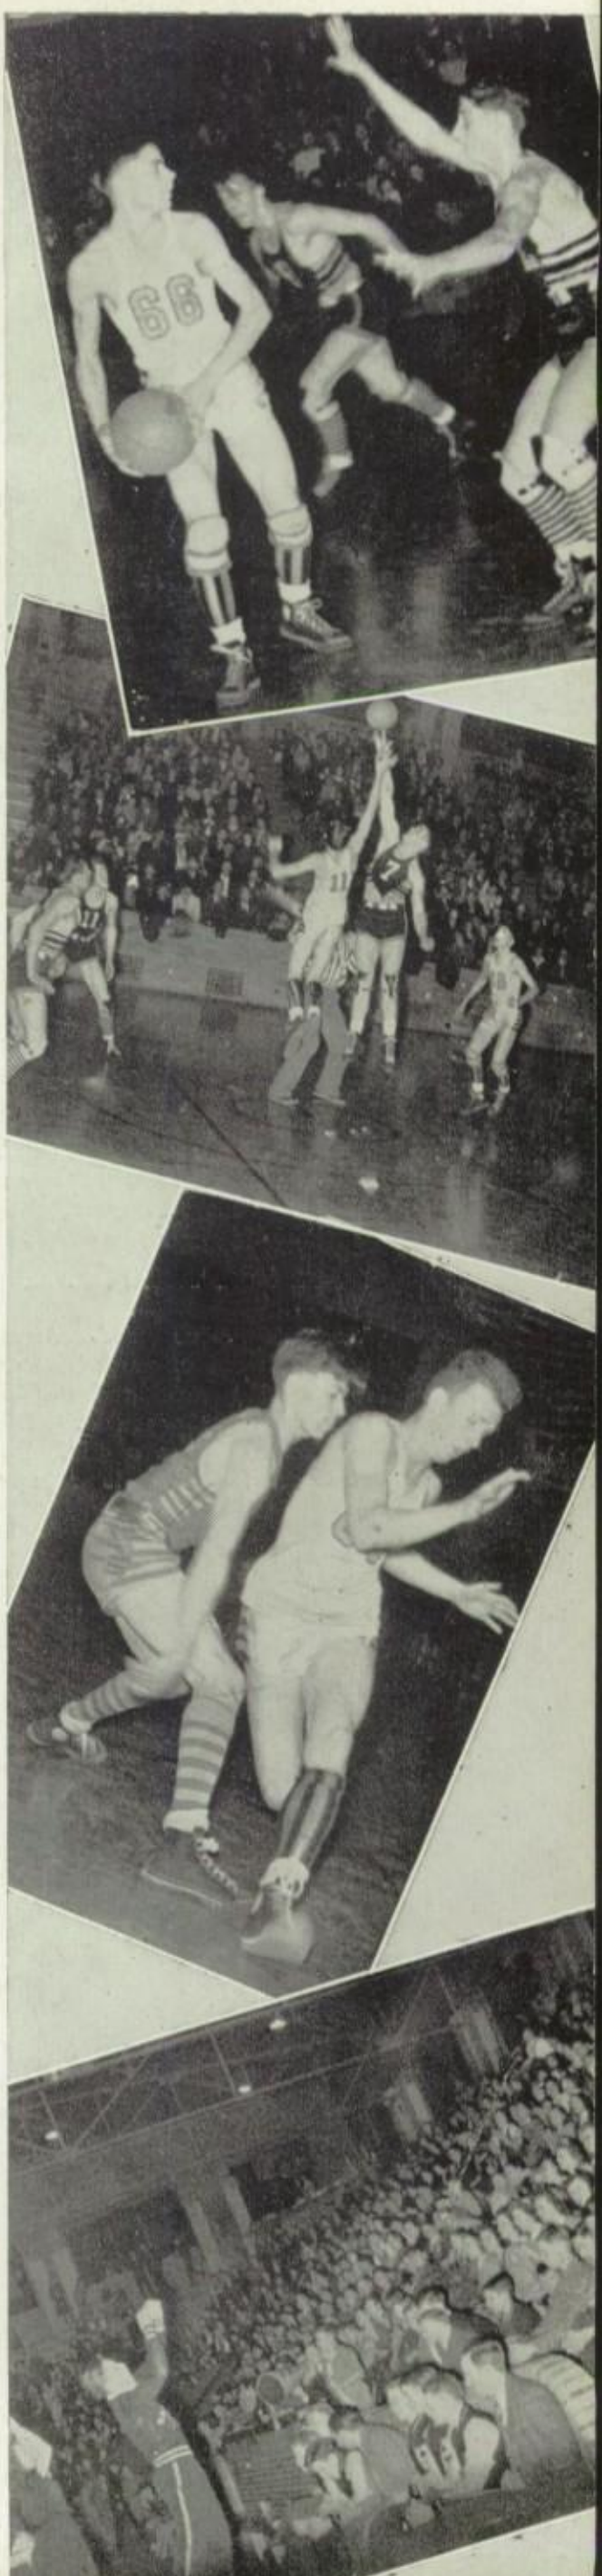
We closed our home season with a victory over the Yellow Jackets. The game was nip and tuck during the first half, but we pulled away in the second half when our fast-passing offensive came to light. Calvin Waters played his season's best game, leading the scoring with 14 points.

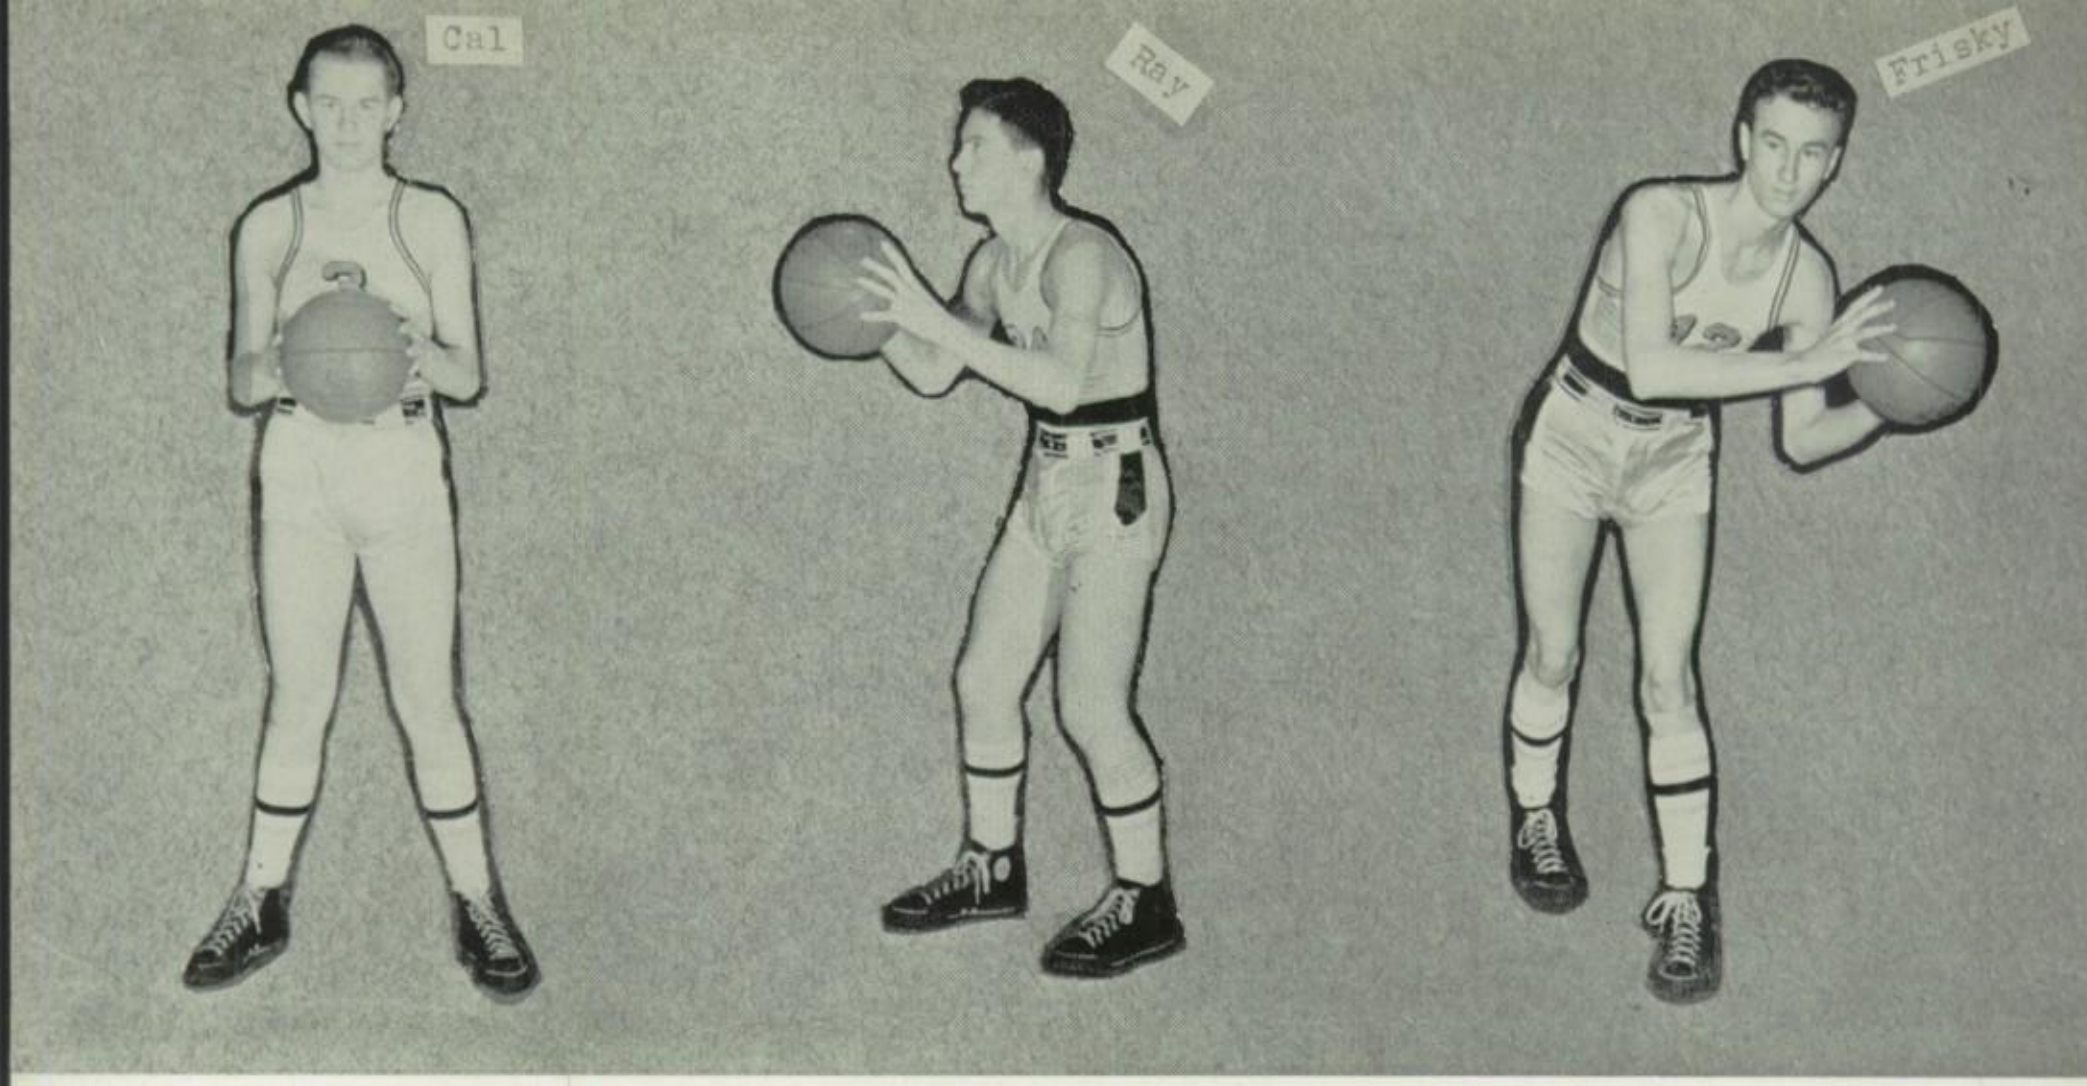
Feb. 20 — 28 Hartford City—Auburn 33

We journeyed to Auburn for our last game of the season and a crucial conference match. In the early stages, our attack functioned to perfection, but we were finally overcome by the Red Devil's height and defense.

SECTIONAL TOURNEY

We met the Pacers at two o'clock on Friday, and after a close battle all the way, Montpelier emerged the victor by the score of 30-29. Pennville represented our sectional at Huntington after defeating the Ridgeville Cossacks in the final game.





CALVIN WATERS

Cal usually played forward, but his dexterity under the backboard made him valuable as a center. This was his last year with the Airedales.

WARREN WILLIAMS

Warren's drive and deceptive passing were of much importance to the Old Gold and Black. He was on hand when called upon and always gave a good account of himself. Warren is a senior.

RAYMOND GILBERT

Ray was chosen captain by his team-mates. He played forward or guard with equal efficiency, and his position will be hard to fill next year.

NEAL GARDNER

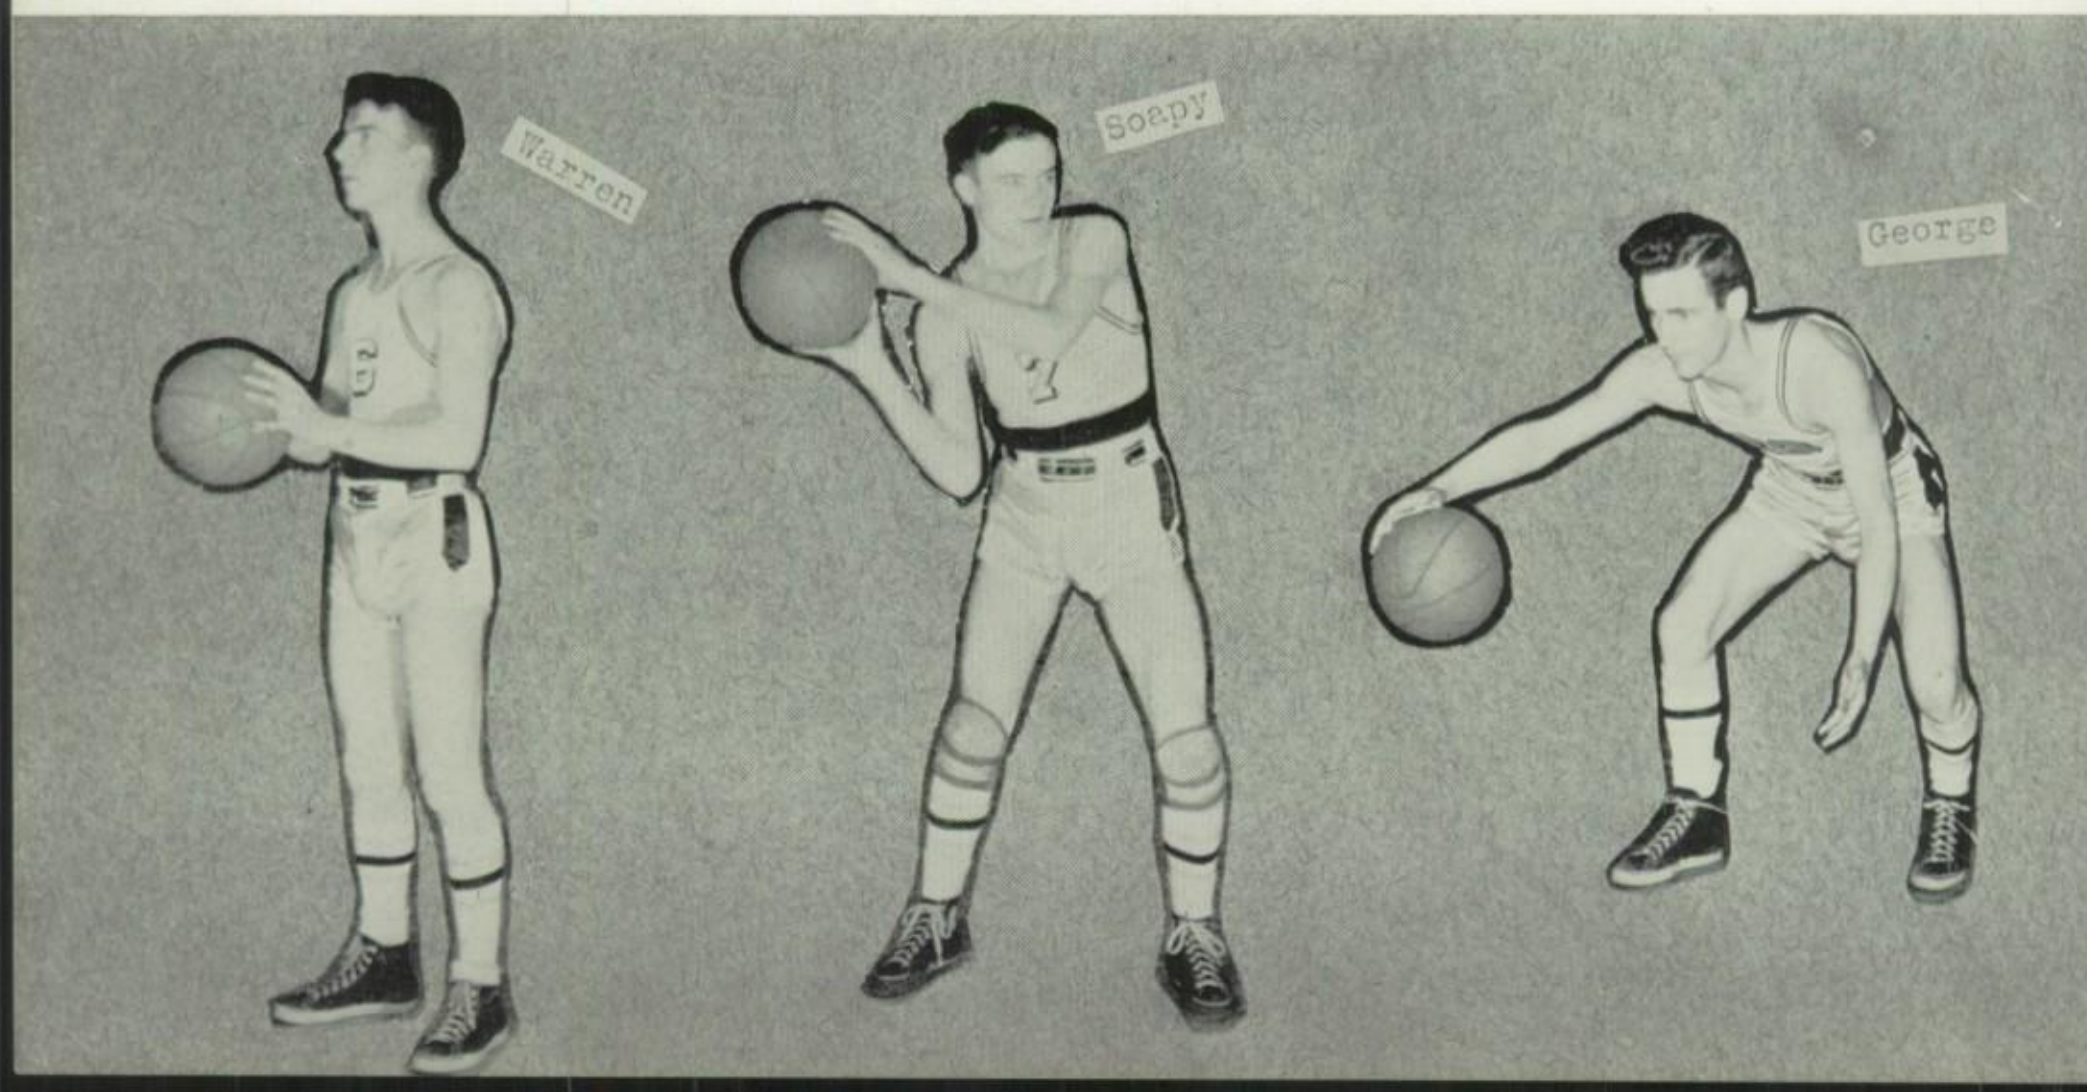
"Soapy", our high-scoring little forward, was our spark plug. His drive and fight made it difficult for our adversaries to hold him. Neal is a junior.

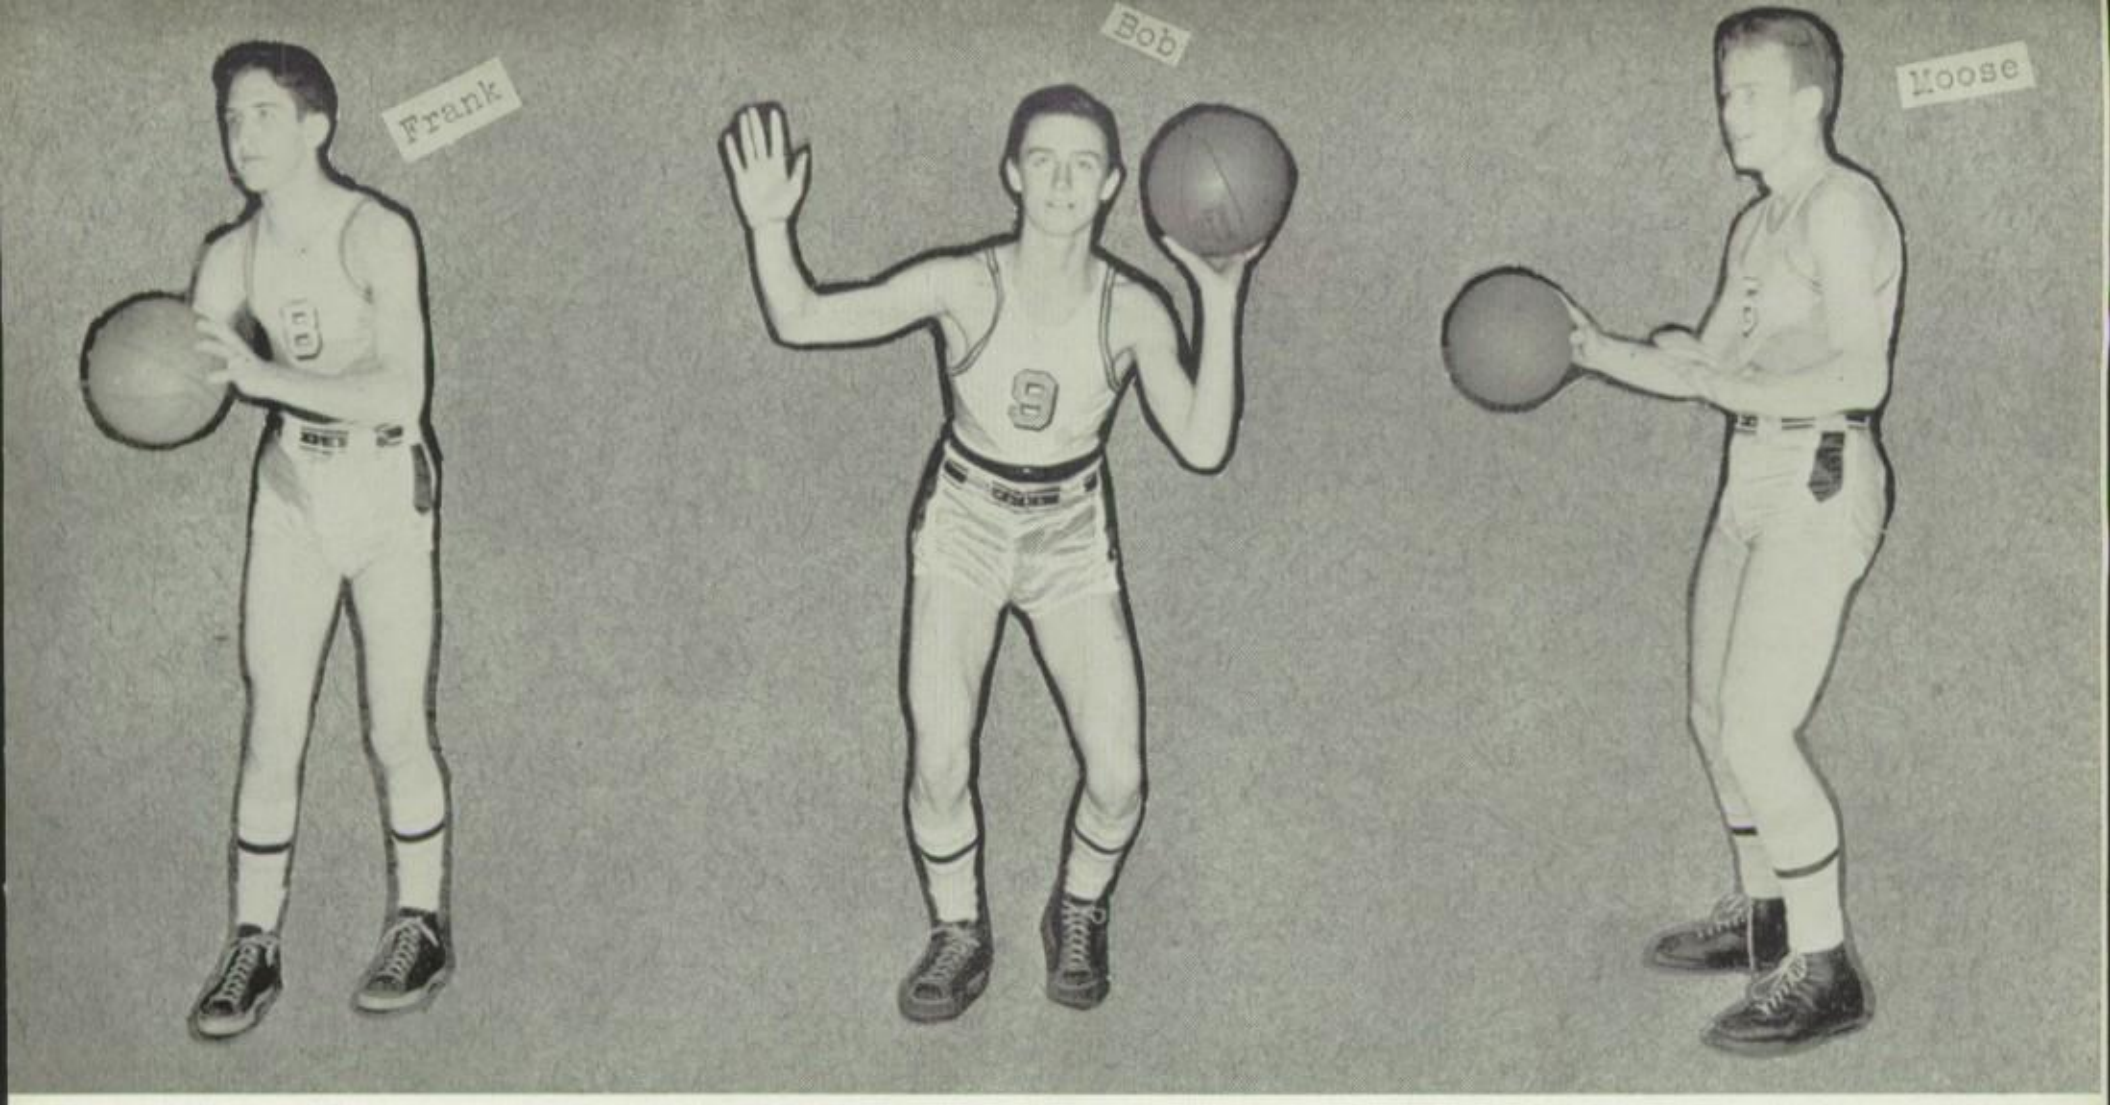
FRED LANDIS

"Frisky" usually played forward, but when the occasion arose, he worked at center. He had a lot of shooting ability and was very proficient on defense. Fred is a senior.

GEORGE FULLER

In playing with the Airedales, George follows his brother, Bob. George played his guard position very capably, and we will be glad to find him back next year.





FRANK EVERHART

Frank's height was of great value under both baskets, and made him a very competent center. He will be hard to replace next year.

JACK DOLAN

After playing the early part of the season with the second team, Jack was advanced to the varsity and proved himself worthy of his promotion. Jack possesses a lot of offensive skill. He is a junior.

BOB FRAHM

Bob's left hand began the year full blast, but an ankle injury kept him out of the lineup for more than half the season. We are sorry we can not have his basket eye with us longer.

BOB MURPHY

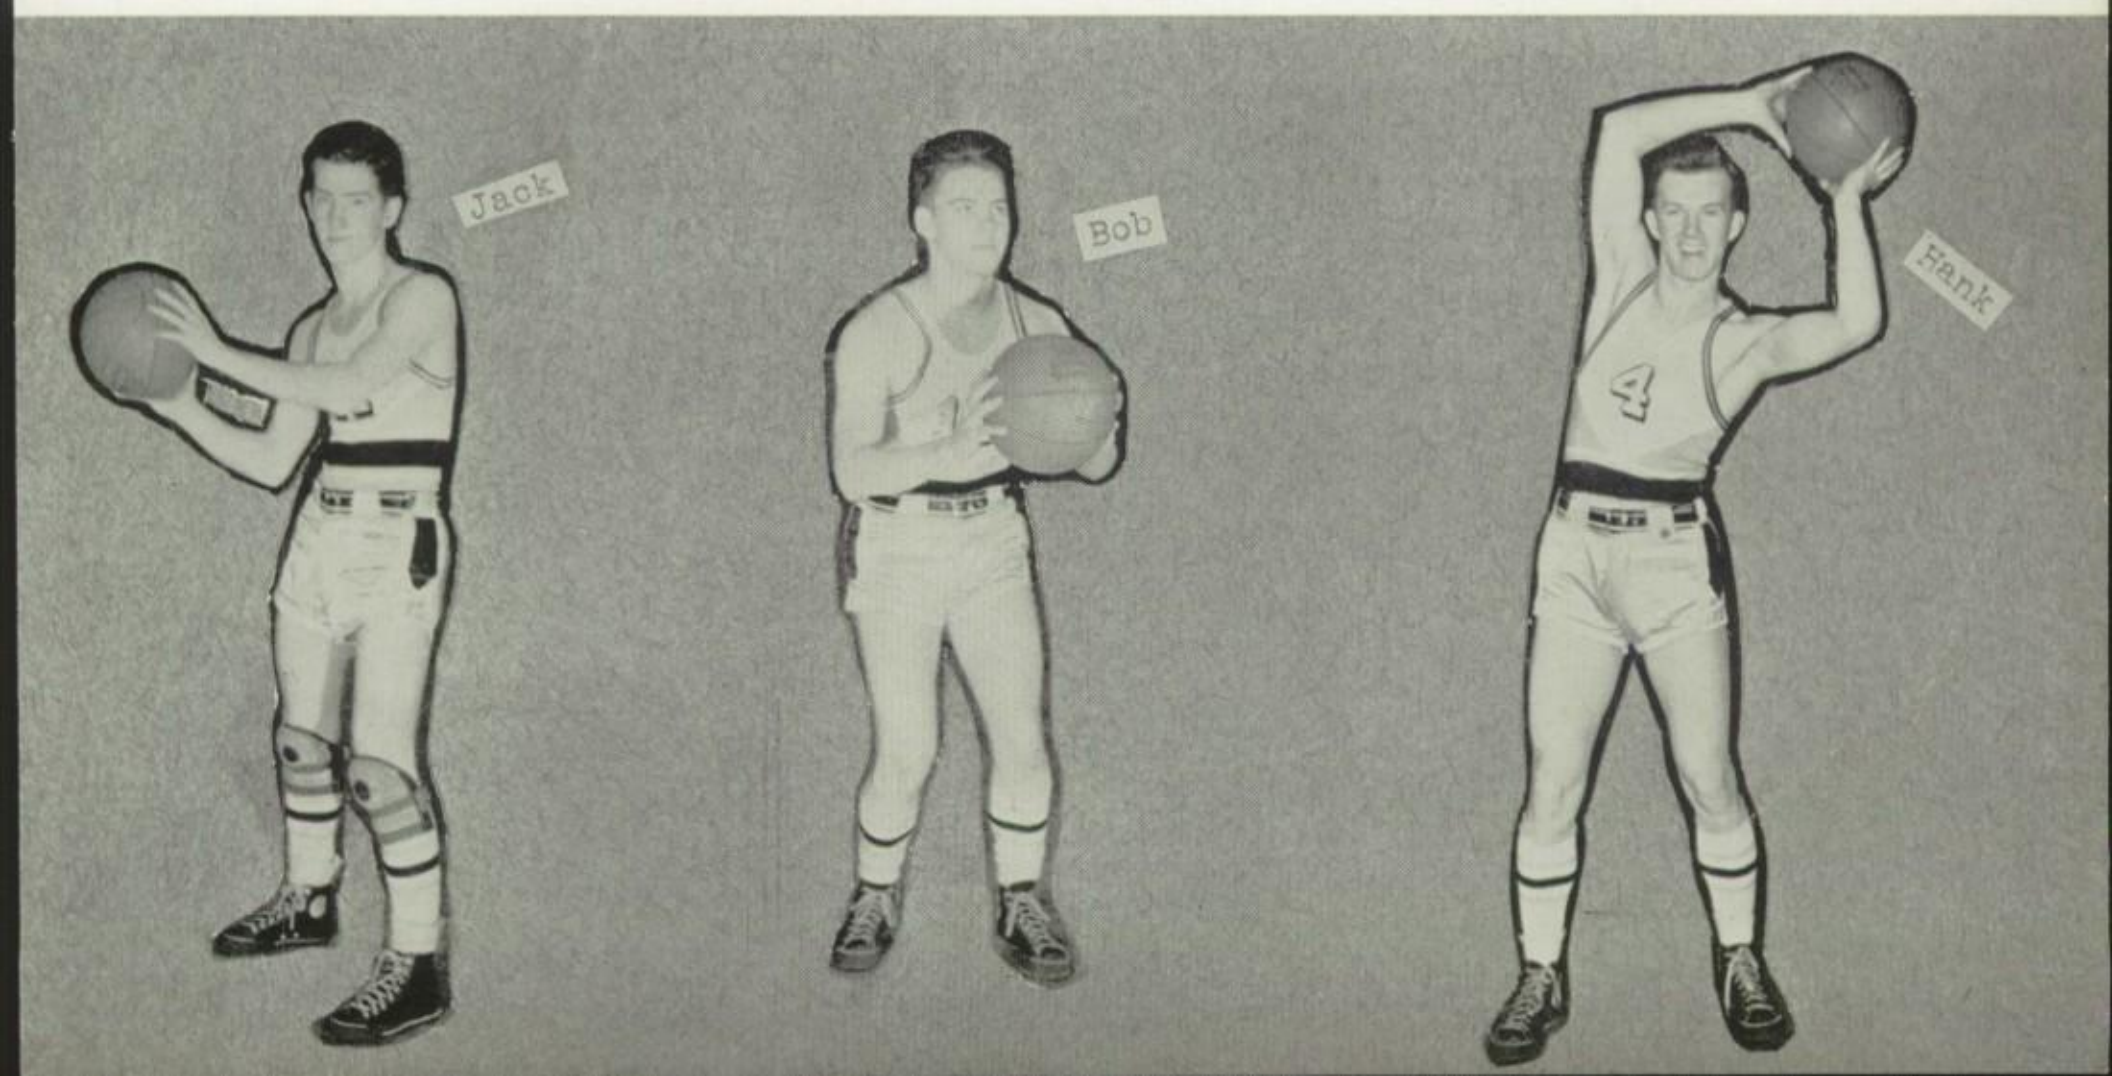
Bob played some outstanding ball on the second team, and he was on hand for varsity duty if called upon. Bob has another year to play.

PAUL WERRY

"Moose" with his Herculian build, made all-around good basketball material. Paul was the source of much fun on the hardwood and will be missed next year.

GENE COATS

"Hank" was high point man and possesses a lot of defensive ability. His drive and fight gave us a lot of thrills, and we are indeed happy that he will return next year.



THE PUPS

Under Mr. Imhoff's guiding hand, the second team has developed several capable performers who will be worthy of wearing varsity uniforms next season. The Pups compiled a commendable record, winning nine and losing eleven games.

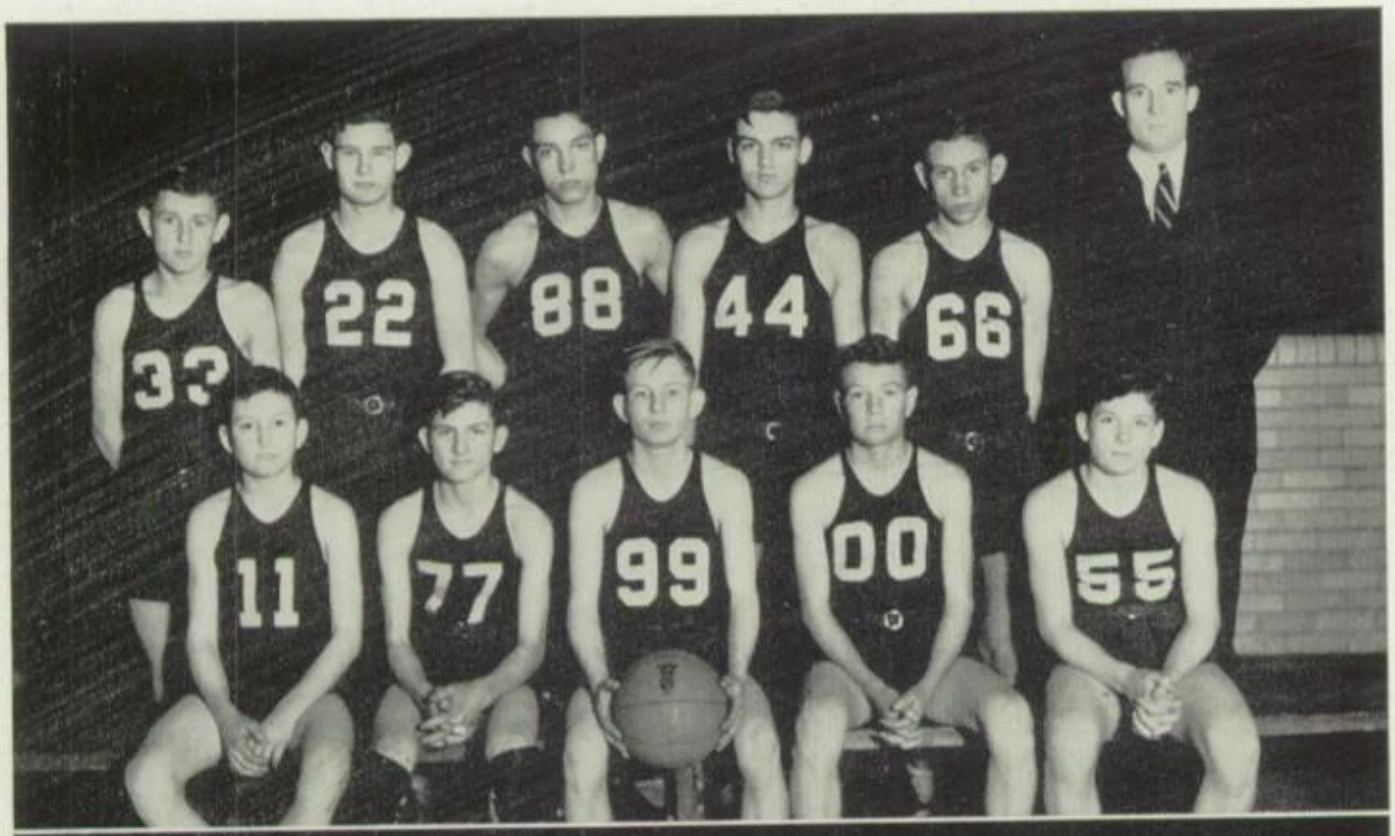
FRESHMEN AND JR. HIGH



Freshmen

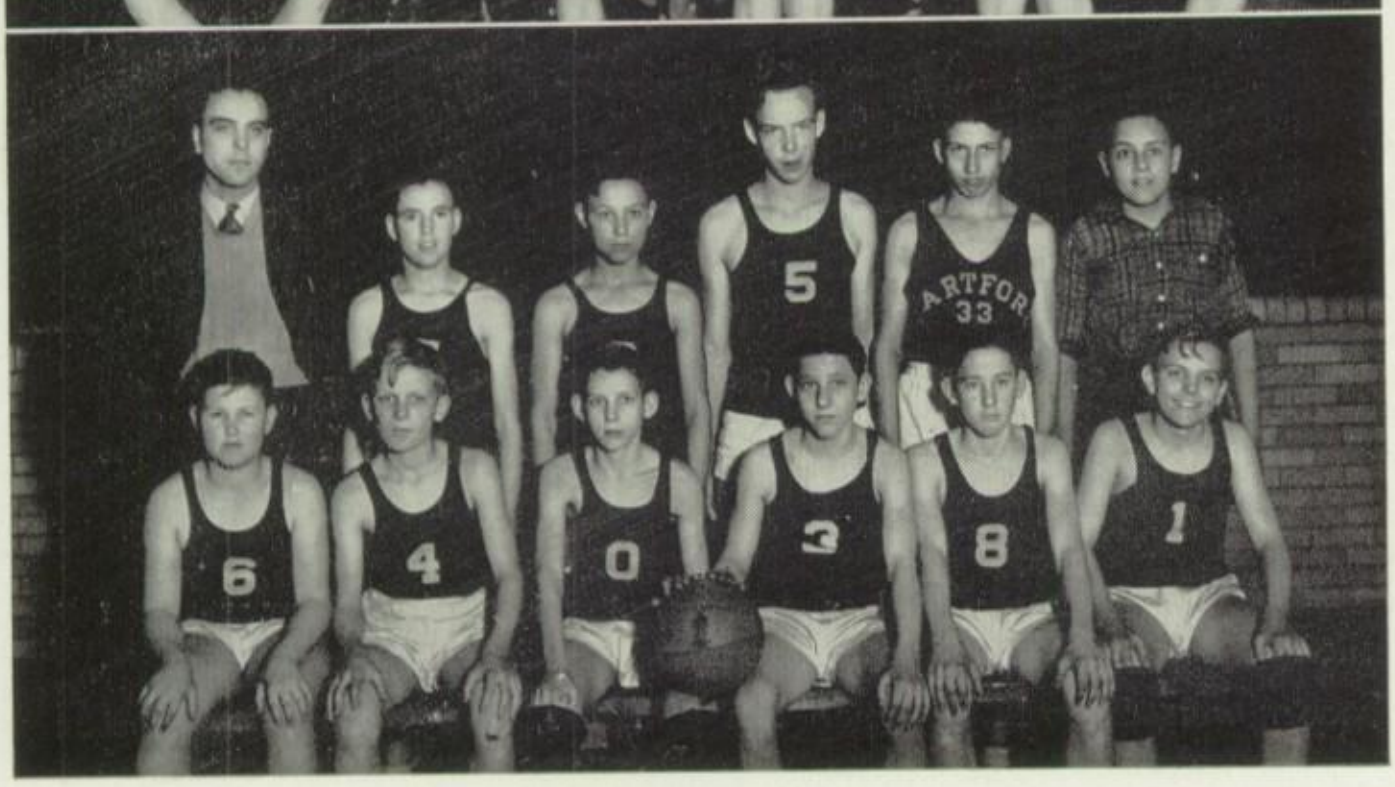
2nd row: Jack Landis, John Bonham, Junior Long, Melvin Tucker, Bill Landis, Mr. Dorton.



7th & 8th

1st row: Gene Shadey, Harry Elliott, Frank Lane, Wayne McIntire, Bob Wagner, Billy McColly.

Under the able direction of Mr. Dorton, the Freshmen obtained good experience although they won but three of fifteen games. Several boys showed great improvement and will make good second team material next year.

The Junior High boys, coached by Mr. Weddle, won eleven of their eighteen games. Much time was spent in learning fundamentals, and we hope some future Airedales will be developed.

Our baseball team enjoyed a successfull fall season, winning four of six games under the direction of Mr. Imhoff. Our two defeats were at the hands of the strong Berne Bears.

Highlights of the season were Gene Mills' home run at Berne, and Gene Coats' one hit shut-out against Yorktown, the Delaware County champions.

GOLDEN GLOVES

Vaughn Ridgeway has brought a measure of honor to our school by winning the Golden Gloves title in the fly weight division at Muncie and then advancing to Chicago. He drew a bye in the first round and won his first bout. In the third round he was defeated; but brought home some fine awards of which he may well be proud. Our congratulations to you, Vaughn!

Student Managers

Bob Cronin faithfully devoted his last two years in school to the welfare of the team. He was capably and cheerfully assisted by Mac Myers and Dick Frahm. Their host of duties and worries was far overshadowed by the satisfaction of doing their bit for our competitive team.

Cheer Leaders

This year the cheer leaders' bench was filled by Gerry Needler and Gene Mills. Their vim, vigor, and vitality pepped up the cheering section and fostered good sportsmanship. Gene graduates this year, but we hope Gerry will be up and at it again next year.

Boys' Sports

Some of our boys thrive on athletic activities, which were very lively during the past year. In our program were basketball, tennis, volleyball, baseball, swimming, gymnastics, track, ping-pong, and boxing.

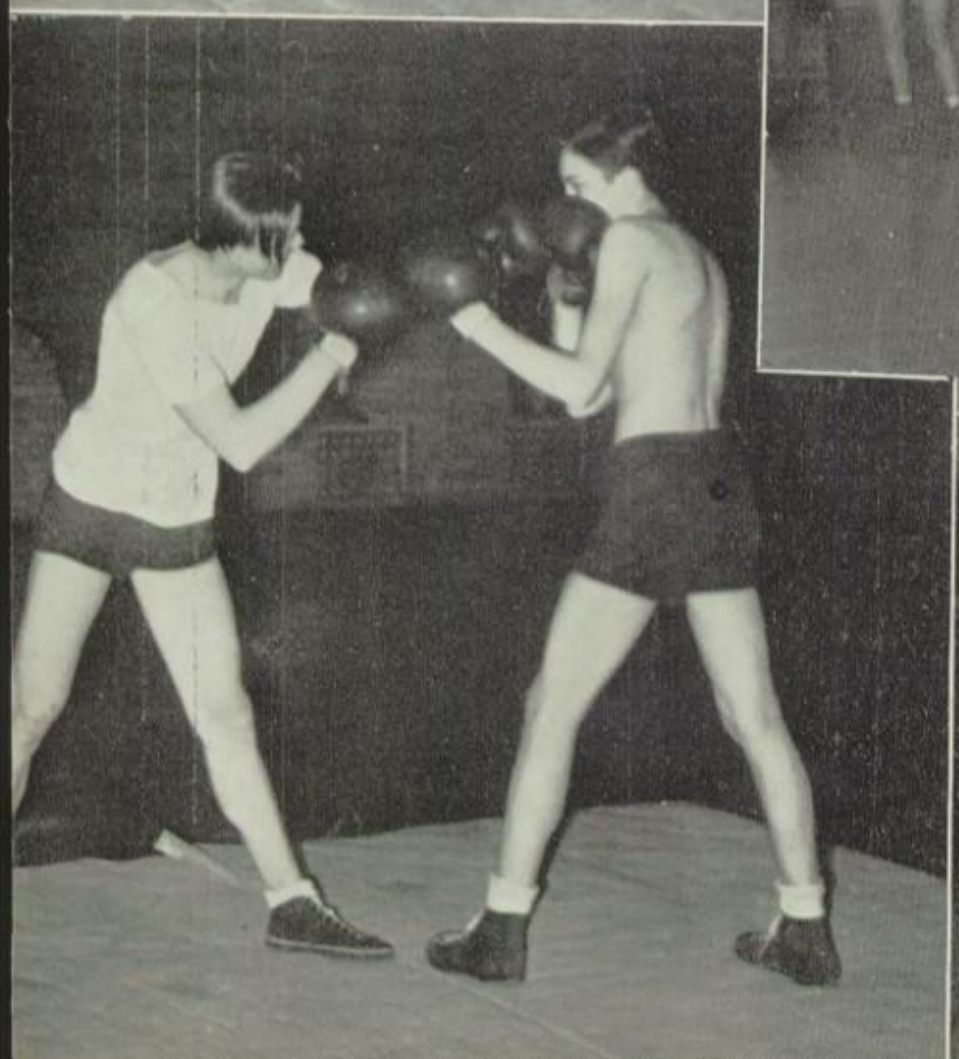
Our pool has recently been renovated and is again one of the finest in the state. The boys spent lots of good times there!

In addition, our school possesses two fine gymnasiums; so our indoor facilities are very adequate. Basketball and gymnastics were enjoyed in the new gym, while volleyball was a favorite pastime in the old gym.

Basketball is the predominate sport, and a very successful and well-planned program was carried out this season. In the class tourney the Seniors defeated the Freshmen, the Juniors defeated the Sophomores, and the Juniors emerged winners by defeating the Seniors. Members of the winning team were Jack Dolan, Bob Ducy, Dick Dorton, Neal Gardner, Bob Murphy, Wilfred Twibell, Everett Stroud, George Fuller, Gene Coats, Harry Pruden, and Vernon Lefevre. An extensive intramural program was arranged under the direction of Mr. Dorton and Mr. Weddle. The noon league winner, captained by James Jones, was composed of Tom Bennett, Fred Miller, Tom Cooper, Richard Stroble, Jack Chick, Bob Clark, and James Jones. The evening league title was won by the team captained by Bill Ervin, the members of which were Clarence Casterline, Junior Tatman, Gene Mills, Richard Brock, Wayne Wagner, Dale Schrack, Bob Fields, Bob Ducy, and Bill Ervin. In the tourney between the leagues, the team of which Charles Knecht was leader won the crown. Members of this team were Junior Buffenbarger, Jack Moore, Byron Pursifull, Howard Robinson, Jack Jones, and "Chit-Wit" Knecht.

A softball league was formed in the fall and the team with Bob Frahm as captain won the play-off. Members of his team were Calvin Waters, Frank Everhart, Bob Ducy, Gale Good, Warren Williams, Jay Snow, and Bob Frahm.

All in all, our athletic program was very well rounded and enabled every boy further to develop those character traits for which the program was organized.



Girls' Sports

The girls' physical education classes have been especially interested in swimming and other water sports this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Herbaugh, several have learned to swim and instructions in life saving and artificial respiration have been stressed. Through out the year, the girls' sports activities have centered mainly around ping-pong, badminton, volley ball, folk dancing, and stunts. Spring weather permitted out-door activities of soft ball.

Springing from the group of physical education classes is the Girls' Athletic Association, or G.A.A. At the beginning of the school year the association elected Dorothy Murphy as president, Virginia Winget as secretary, and Mary Ann Sebring as treasurer. Later the group hiked to Lake Placid, where they held a meeting and enjoyed a picnic. Meetings are held after school on designated days, and the members partake of different sports in the swimming pool or gym.

Mrs. Herbaugh endeavors, through student cooperation and sportsmanship, to establish all the necessary qualities and skills for a fundamental knowledge of general physical education. This is accomplished through the sport program. Folk dancing and stunts help the individual students acquire poise, dexterity, and agility in co-ordination of the body and mind.

The Retro, A Glance Back

1916 — 1942

Twenty-six years of RETRO activity have preceded this edition of the annual publication of Hartford City High School . These twenty-six books have shown us the changes brought about in our school as if through a gradual evolution. This book, the 1942 RETRO, we like to think represents the climax of all past endeavors, and we hope in its pages we have succeeded in bringing you a true picture of HCHS as it is today.

The first RETRO was created by the imaginative minds of the class of 1916. Desiring to leave some lasting memorial to show progress of the school in 1916, the 35 members of this class saw embodied the prospects of a high school annual as such a memorial. The word RETRO means "back" or "to look back over past acts", so the name of our annual was appropriately chosen. The first RETRO was 12 inches wide and 7½ inches tall. The editor was James McKenna, now in the newspaper business in Michigan, and the business manager was James Emshwiller, who is practicing law here in Hartford City. Scanning this old book you see several pages of ingenious cartooning, created by James W. Hummer. Mr. Hummer is now in the air-conditioning business in Chicago. This first RETRO marked the beginning of the last will and testament and prophesy idea, a custom which has continued down through the years. Among the organizations pictured in the edition were the Latin Club (the oldest club in the history of the school), the German Club, the T. T. S. E. Club, the Orchestra, and of course, the mighty Airedales, then unnamed.

Each year following 1916 brought frequent changes in the make-up and styling of the book until we now have our RETRO of most recent production. Padded covers now replace the former paper ones; there is no advertising in our later volumes, individual pictures of underclassmen have superseded the old-style group pictures; and of later years greater emphasis is put upon clubs and athletics. An example of these many changes is shown in the way the size of the book has varied over these twenty-six years. Two of the early annuals were longer than they were wide, and in 1935 the book shrank to the size of 8¾" by 5¾". Since then the books have all been approximately 7½" by 10½". In early volumes the covers were rather dark in color; now the styles have a brighter and more streamlined appearance.

Looking back into the personnel of other years, we find that in 1917 the RETRO had for its editor, Esther Cronin, now Mrs. Esther Daniels, a teacher at the William Reed School. The business end of that year's book was handled by Nelson Townsend, now on the staff of the Hartford City News-Times. The 1918 RETRO was edited by George Fulton, Jr. at present engaged in business with the Fulton Glass Company in Hartford City. The business manager that year was John Wilson, now living in Muncie. In 1919 the editor of the RETRO was Bowen Willman, now on the University of Illinois staff. The business manager was Raymond Dawson, since teaching at the University of Texas.

J. Douglas Brushwiller was editor of the 1920 RETRO. Mr. Brushwiller moved to Indianapolis shortly after graduation. The business manager in 1920 was Arthur Baker, now the manager of the Circle Theater in Indianapolis. The editor of the 1921 RETRO was LeRoy Fields, who resides at present in Hartford City; and the business manager was Phil Worthen, who, so we are told, is now managing theaters in California. In 1922 Malcolm Moore, now in the newspaper business in Michigan, was editor of the RETRO. Estel Rouse, who recently moved to Chicago, was the business manager that year.

The 1923 RETRO had another girl for editor, Ruby Johnson, now Mrs. Earl T. Pifer, of Detroit, Michigan. The business manager was Bill Forkner who is also in Detroit. He is with the Eaton Manufacturing Company there. The 1924 RETRO was edited by Claude Gaver, a dramatic critic in New York; the business manager, Blake Maddox, a dentist in Chicago. The editor of the 1925 RETRO was Canis Brockway, of Indianapolis, and the business manager was Paul Herbst, who lives somewhere in Ohio.

In 1926 the RETRO was edited by John Tharpe, now in business in Brookville, Indiana. The business manager that year was Fred Brickley, at present manager of the Mercer Lumber Company. In 1927 Frances Campbelle, now Mrs. Jerry Keshan, was editor-in-chief of the RETRO, and Harold Markin, with the Baxter and Markin funeral home, was business manager. Franklin DeWald was editor of the 1928 RETRO. Mr. DeWald is now a lawyer. Junior Powell, manager of a Woolworth store in Huntington Park, California, was the business manager.

The editor of the 1929 RETRO was Mabel Fee, currently a teacher of English and French in HCHS. The business manager that year was Clyde Babbitt, who is at present employed with the Indiana General Service at Muncie. In 1930 Marion Stinson, now Mrs. Maurice Fleece of Anderson, was the editor. George Gardiner of the Mercer Lumber Company was elected business manager. We find that in 1931 Armella Elliot, now Mrs. Robert Crist of Muncie, was editor-in-chief; Meyer Jones, the business manager. Recently Mr. Jones held a professorship in a college in Iowa until he joined up with our armed forces.

In 1932 the editor of the RETRO was Edith Hendricks, now Mrs. Guy Ingram, of Newcastle. The business manager was Chester Russell, since employed here in Hartford City. Betty Hill became editor of the RETRO in 1933. She is now Mrs. William Smith of Indianapolis. The business manager was Harold Shumaker who has been on the staff of a Muncie newspaper. In 1934 Catherine Daugherty, employed now in Washington, D. C., was editor of the RETRO; and John Kleefisch was the business manager. Mr. Kleefisch is in the grocery business with his father here in Hartford City.

In 1935 Lillian Owens, now Mrs. Orlan Williams of Hartford City, was editor of the RETRO. The business end of the publication was handled by two people this year, Perry Smith and Bob Forkner. Mr. Smith is in Hartford City at present, and Mr. Forkner is an engineer at Delco-Reme at Anderson. The editor of the RETRO in 1936 was Bob Overmyer, today a Lieutenant in the U. S. Army stationed at Camp Jackson. The business manager was Dick Ducy who is living in Hartford City. Darrill Ratliff was editor of the RETRO in 1937, and at the present time is in the air corps at San Ana, California. Walter Hollis that year was chosen business manager. He is now in New York City.

The editor of the RETRO in 1938 was Tommy Helm, who is expected to join the air corps soon, and the business manager was Martha Ellen Huff, now a senior at Ball State. In 1939 the RETRO was edited by Betty Monfort, a student at Stephens College at Columbia, Missouri. The business manager was John Cook, now with the U. S. armed forces in Alaska. Susanna Howerter, now employed at the Citizens State Bank in Hartford City, was editor-in-chief of the 1940 RETRO. The business manager was Donald Guy, a sophomore at Ohio State. The 1941 RETRO had Ruth Russell for its editor. She is now employed at the Overhead Door. The business manager was James McCune, now awaiting entrance into Annapolis.

So, with pleasure, we present to you the latest chapter in the long and interesting cavalcade of Hartford City High School.
